FOREWORD

Dear Media Representative,

The eagerly-anticipated 14th edition of the Women's EHF European Handball Championship, the EHF EURO 2020, will be hosted by Denmark and Norway from 4-20 December 2020.

However before teams can dream of a place in the finals, there is plenty of handball to be played, with a competitive qualification programme testing 28 countries over six rounds between September 2019 and May 2020.

For some, the road to Denmark and Norway has already begun. Greece has already come through the first qualification stage, beating Israel, Luxembourg and Finland, to book their place among the main qualification phase.

Greece joins 27 nations who have been drawn into seven groups of four that will fight for the 14 places in the final tournament. Playing each other home and away in a round-robin system, the two top-ranked teams in each group will progress to the finals

As hosts, Denmark and Norway have already secured two of the 16 available spots at the finals. Both nations have a rich and successful history in the competition making them the perfect hosts for the women's showpiece event once again in 2020.

It will be the second time the two nations will co-host the finals, having previously done so in 2010. That year, Norway took their fifth title.

Since then, the Norwegians have since tasted gold two more times, capturing their sixth and seventh titles in 2014 and 2016 respectively, making them the most successful nation in the history of the competition.

Three-times champions Denmark will be hoping home advantage can help them in their pursuit of a first title in 18 years. The Danes' last title triumph came in 2002 – a year in which they also hosted the final tournament.

After finally getting their hands on the top prize in 2018, France will be aiming to make it back-to-back titles after their memorable victory over Russia in Paris. Standing in the reigning champions' way in their road to Denmark and Norway are Croatia, Turkey and Iceland in qualification Group 6. You can read more about the French team across pages 53 & 54.

For you, the media, the EHF Media and Communications Department has prepared this media guide to give you a comprehensive overview of all 28 teams participating. It also contains an extensive overview of all records of players and teams, as well as head-to-head statistics for the seven qualification groups, tournament history and media contacts at each competing national federation.

Throughout the qualification phase, the EHF Media and Communications Department will continually update the media with results and news relating to the tournament.

However, if you have any questions or queries, the department is only a quick email away, so please feel free to get in touch with the team in Vienna on media@eurohandball.com.

SCHEDULE FOR EURO 2020

The EHF Executive Committee has approved the request from the organising committee of Norway and Denmark to extend the schedule and add an additional host city for the Women's EHF EURO 2020.

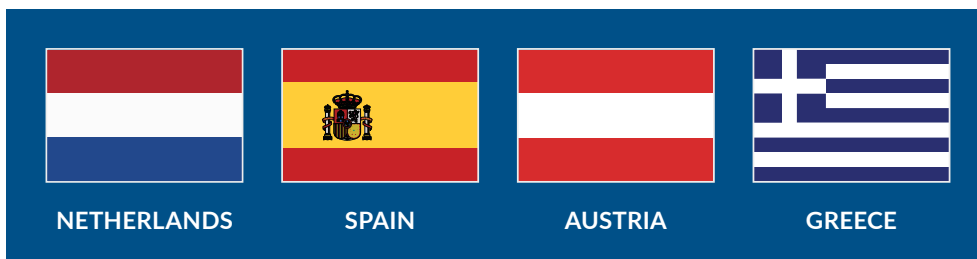

A new schedule has been confirmed with the event starting already on 3 December 2020 for the opening matches of groups A and C. The Women's EHF EURO 2020 was initially scheduled from 4 to 20 December 2020.

With the new schedule, teams receive an additional rest day (9 December) between the preliminary and the main round.

"With the new schedule we are getting closer to our ambition to provide the best possible conditions, both for the participating countries and for the handball fans who will come to support their teams", said Kia Otnes, Project Manager Women's EHF EURO 2020 in Norway.

"Starting on 3 December 2020, the new tournament schedule ensures more time for the players to recover. Together with our friends in Denmark, and our local organising committees in Trondheim, Stavanger and Oslo, we are looking forward to welcoming everyone to this spectacular event, with the final weekend at Telenor Arena as the ultimate pinnacle of the EHF EURO."

EHF EURO 2020 VENUES

The Women's EHF EURO 2020 will be played from 3 to 20 December 2020 in Norway and Denmark. Both countries will host two preliminary round groups and one main round group each, while the final weekend will take place in Norway's capital Oslo.

Chosen as a preliminary round and also a main round venue for Denmark is its famous handball arena, Jyske Bank Boxen, located in the heart of the country, in Herning. Boxen, as it is often referred to, has hosted a plethora of incredible handball matches including the final weekends of Women's EHF EURO 2010 and Men's EHF EURO 2014, as well as several matches including the finals at the Women's World Championship 2015 and the Men's World Championship 2019. The city of Frederikshavn will join Herning as Danish host for the preliminary round. The 2,800-capacity Arena Nord is no stranger to handball, having previously hosted matches during the 2015 women's World Championships.

In Norway, the 'New Nidarhallen' in Trondheim will open its gates in time for the Men's EHF EURO 2020 in January next year. Almost 9,000 fans will then be able to follow the handball matches played in it.

Trondheim is the venue for the preliminary groups, while the main round will be played in Stavanger's Idrettshall, an 8,000-capacity arena. For the final weekend, the tournament will move to Oslo and its Telenor Arena. The 12,000-capacity venue is Norway's leading indoor multipurpose arena.
